

PROJECT ARCHITECT

About EskewDumezRipple EskewDumezRipple (EDR) is a nationally recognized group of architects, designers, and thinkers operating within the fields of architecture, interior design, research, and urban strategies with studios in New Orleans and Washington DC. EDR has created a reputation for designing projects that are programmatically thoughtful and technically sophisticated as well as cost and resource conscious. Our commitment to enhance and protect both the cultural and natural environments of the communities we serve is evident in the beauty and technical craftsmanship of our designs and the long-term sustainability of our projects.

About the Job We are currently looking for Project Architects to join our growing DC-based Studio.

Responsibilities Responsible for coordination with clients, project team members and consultants from startup and pre-design through construction and occupancy.

Deliver projects on schedule and within budget while embracing EDR's culture of sustainability and design (beauty = performance).

Help in directing and managing project teams, mentoring staff, and representing the firm externally to clients and project stakeholders.

Manage regulatory submissions and coordination with various federal, state and local AHJ's involved with our projects.

Plan and execute high-quality design work and Construction Documents.

Qualifications Excellent collaboration, presentation, and problem-solving skills.

Professional degree in architecture required and either active US registration or active licensure pursuit are required.

LEED certification is expected.

Revit proficiency is required.

Active professional, cultural and civic participation is preferred.

Qualified candidates must have 5-10 years architectural experience, preferably with at least three years of recent Project Architect/Project Manager experience.

Benefits EskewDumezRipple offers a comprehensive benefits package including medical, dental, vision, 401K, short and long term disability, life insurance, competitive PTO, and parental leave. Our studio also hosts weekly happy hours and numerous employee events throughout the year.

To Apply EskewDumezRipple is a welcoming studio dedicated to equity and inclusion and encourages applications from diverse candidates. To be considered for employment, please submit your resume along with any other relevant portfolio materials that reflect relevant experience to jobsedrDC@eskewdumezripple.com.